

MARK SCHEME for the May/June 2014 series

0416 HISTORY (US)

0416/11

Paper 1, maximum raw mark 60

This mark scheme is published as an aid to teachers and candidates, to indicate the requirements of the examination. It shows the basis on which Examiners were instructed to award marks. It does not indicate the details of the discussions that took place at an Examiners' meeting before marking began, which would have considered the acceptability of alternative answers.

Mark schemes should be read in conjunction with the question paper and the Principal Examiner Report for Teachers.

Cambridge will not enter into discussions about these mark schemes.

Cambridge is publishing the mark schemes for the May/June 2014 series for most IGCSE, GCE Advanced Level and Advanced Subsidiary Level components and some Ordinary Level components.

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

Applying the Mark Scheme

- When marking a response the overall criteria to be considered should be – ‘How good is the response to this question?’
- The ‘Level Descriptor’ should be used to decide the Level into which the quality of the answer fits.
- Exhaustive lists of possible facts are not given in the mark scheme, as there is often a choice of factual knowledge that candidates may use.
- WHERE EXAMPLES OF RESPONSES ARE GIVEN, THESE ARE NOT PRESCRIPTIVE, BUT ARE INTENDED AS A GUIDE. It is not possible to cover every possible type of response within a levels of response mark scheme and examiners are expected to use their professional judgement at all times in ensuring that responses are placed in the correct levels and given an appropriate mark within that level.
- Marking must be positive. Marks must not be deducted for inaccurate or irrelevant parts of answers. In itself, poor use of historical terminology, spelling, grammar or handwriting does not affect the mark. The overall quality of the answer to the question should be judged.
- If a candidate reaches a particular level s/he must be rewarded with a mark within that level. It is not necessary to work through the levels.
- The full range of marks should be used. Do not be afraid to award full marks or no marks. Failure to do this will seriously affect the distribution of marks. Be prepared to reward candidates who show any level of understanding. The mark scheme starts from basic acceptable response. Where a band of marks is indicated for a level these marks should be used with reference to the development of the answer within that level.

Assessment Objectives

The Assessment Objectives being tested in each part of a question are:

OR

e.g. 'The German reaction was not justified because they had treated Russia more harshly in the Treaty of Brest-Litovsk. Under the terms of this treaty, Russia lost 32% of their agricultural land and 54% of their industry, and was fined 300 million gold roubles. The French felt that it was right to invade to take the value of the missing payments in goods. They invaded the Ruhr, with the assistance of the Belgians, because this was an area rich in coal and iron.'

'The French themselves were under pressure from the United States to start repaying some of their war debts. They, therefore, needed the reparation payments to help pay these debts.'

The "stab in the back" at Versailles received great importance and emphasised how the hardships of 1919–1923 were caused by Jews squeezing profits out of honest Germans. As children grew older this increased loyalty to the Fuhrer.'
'Hitler wanted the young boys to be trained so that they would have a career in the army. There was a heavy emphasis on physical fitness, while in Maths there had to be an understanding of military calculations and ballistics, and in Chemistry an understanding of warfare and explosives.'

It was used to prepare boys and girls for their roles in life and to develop the Nazi ideal. Many young people were happy to join as other youth associations were banned and the Hitler Youth offered a variety of activities which were popular.'

‘It resulted in Kerensky being appointed prime minister.’

‘It led to the appointment of Kornilov.’

‘The Bolsheviks did not harness the discontent.’

‘It showed the government lacked control.’

Level 3 Explains reasons [4–7]

(One mark for an explanation, additional mark for full explanation.)

e.g. ‘The “July Days” showed that the government lacked control. There were strikes in almost all factories in Petrograd and the Kronstadt sailors demonstrated, as did the detachments of the Machine Gun Regiment of which two thirds refused to go to the front to fight. The government struggled to keep order with such widespread discontent.’

‘The “July Days” showed that the Bolshevik leadership was under-prepared for the levels of discontent shown by numerous groups against the government. Because of the lack of Bolshevik leadership, most strikers went home and the soldiers and sailors returned to barracks. The Bolshevik leadership was fortunate to survive as many were arrested while Lenin fled to Finland.’

Kerensky rallied the army for a great "June Offensive". It was a disaster. Riots followed and further desertions. Many wanted to be in the countryside if land was to be shared out.'

OR

e.g. 'Lenin persuaded the Bolsheviks to overthrow the Provisional Government by stopping the close co-operation of the Petrograd Soviet and the Government. He ensured that more Bolsheviks became members of the Petrograd Soviet.'

'It meant that Stalin could deal with kulaks.'

'Stalin needed surpluses to export.'

Level 3 Explains reasons [4–7]

(One mark for an explanation, additional mark for full explanation.)

e.g. 'Collective farming would be more efficient as there would be bigger units and more machinery could be used. This would produce more food for the workers in the cities.'

'Stalin needed to improve industry. This required much capital spending for the infrastructure and expertise. Stalin hoped that collective farming would produce such a surplus to sell abroad that huge amounts of foreign currency would be earned and this could be spent on developing industry.'

'Collectivisation gave Stalin an excuse to deal with the kulaks. He despised them. They had made it clear they would not hand over surpluses to the state or be amalgamated into larger units under a communist official. They refused to grow "new" crops such as flax which was needed for industry.'

By 1940, the USSR was the world's second largest industrial power. Even by 1932, the least successful product had grown by over 50%.'

OR

e.g. 'Success came at the expense of most workers. Factory discipline was strict and punishments severe. Lateness or absence was punished by sacking and this often meant the loss of the home as well. The secret police prevented free movement of workers.'

Level 3 Explains reasons [4–7]

'Canadian wheat producers were highly efficient and brought stiff competition to the US farmers.'

'An underlying problem was over-production. Up to 1920, when farming was doing well, more and more land was used for farming. Improved machinery, such as the combined harvester, made US agriculture extremely efficient. The result of this was that it was producing surpluses of wheat no-one wanted.'
