INSTRUCTIONS TO CANDIDATES

Use black ink or black ball-point pen.

Write your name, centre number and candidate number in the spaces at the top of this page.

Answer ALL the questions on the examination paper.

Write your answers in the spaces provided in this booklet. Use supplementary sheets when there is insufficient room in this booklet. Write your name at the top of each supplementary sheet, indicating clearly the number of the question you answer. Put the supplementary sheets inside this booklet.

INFORMATION FOR CANDIDATES

The number of marks is given in brackets at the end of each question or part-question.

You are reminded that assessment will take into account the quality of written communication used in your answers that involve extended writing. These are question 1(c) and question 3(b).

In addition, your ability to spell, punctuate and use grammar accurately will be assessed in your answer to question 3(b).

Answer all questions.

QUESTION 1

This question is focused on the changing nature of popular entertainment in Wales and England since 1900. [17]

Study the source below and then answer the question which follows.

Source A

[Acrobats performing at a music hall show at London's Empire Theatre, before 1914]

(a) Use Source A and your own knowledge to describe a music hall before 1914. [3]

Study these two sources which refer to the impact of television from the 1950s to the present day and answer the question which follows.

Source B

The living room was full of neighbours, family and friends watching the Queen's coronation on our black and white television. When the crown actually went on the Queen's head, everybody in the room stood up. I was six years old, and all I can remember is the happiness of everybody watching this tiny little screen.

[Trisha, a member of the public remembering watching the Queen's Coronation of 1953 on television. She wrote this on a news blog in 2013]

Source C

Children in Britain are becoming heavily addicted to television, warns a survey. They spend more time watching TV and less playing outdoors than children in other European countries. Researchers found British youngsters preferred watching television to reading.

[From a Daily Mail newspaper article on obesity, 2010]

- (c) Why do Sources B and C have different views about the impact of television from the 1950s to the present day? [8]

In your answer you should refer to the content and authorship of the sources and use your own knowledge.
